Website Information
Articles
Posted by : dave
Posted on : 27th Dec 2008

Hello there!

I noticed a few new registrations - have a click around the forums, feel free to introduce yourselves, add some information to your profile, etc.

(Note that due to an issue with spambots flooding both forums and comments, these have been changed to registered-only)

At some point, various scammers/spammers started flooding both forums and (anonymous) comments with links to their sites. Now these have been cleaned up, content can only be submitted to comments and forums for registered members only.